McSHANE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY RECEIVES INDUSTRY AWARDS FOR OUTSTANDING SAFETY RECORD

(Associated General Contractors of America Recognizes McShane Construction for its Excellence in Safety Performance)

(Rosemont, Illinois) – Jeffrey A. Raday, President of McShane Construction Company, is pleased to announce that the firm recently received two prestigious Safety Recognition Awards from the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC) that serve to recognize the firm's outstanding safety performance throughout 2010.

The national chapter of the AGC took note of McShane Construction's commitment to maintaining a safe workplace when it honored the firm with a Certificate of Commendation for its Excellent Safety Record 2010. McShane Construction was recognized for its ability to achieve a zero incident rate for 50,000 work hours and above. McShane Construction also received a Safety Recognition Award from the Builders Association, the Chicago Chapter of AGC, in honor of the firm's outstanding safety performance in 2010.

“McShane Construction takes pride in the details and effectiveness of our Safety Program. The standards that are established and maintained on each McShane jobsite are set forth to protect all personnel working or visiting our construction locations,” remarks Raday. “I congratulate every member of the McShane Construction team for their contribution toward this important goal.”

The AGC has a long history of helping to keep construction workers safe on jobsites and has always encouraged its member companies to develop strong safety programs. McShane Construction’s Safety First, Last and Always motto has proven noteworthy in light of these most recent safety awards. The firm is regularly recognized by industry peers and construction related associations for its commitment to jobsite and building safety. Extensive safety measures are emphasized for all McShane employees through training, inspections and regular communication regarding its importance.
