McSHANE CONSTRUCTION COMPANY RECEIVES MULTIPLE AWARDS FOR OUTSTANDING SAFETY RECORD

(The Associated General Contractors of America and the Builders Association Recognize McShane Construction with Separate Honors for its Excellence in Safety Awards)

(Rosemont, Illinois) – Jeffrey A. Raday, President of McShane Construction Company, is pleased to announce that the firm recently received two distinctive awards from The Associated General Contractors (AGC) of America and the Builders Association (Chicago Chapter of the AGC) that served to recognize the firm's outstanding safety record in 2008.

McShane was the recipient of a "National AGC Safety Award" highlighting the firm's zero lost time incident rate for 2008. This program evaluates the safety records of AGC members of similar size and construction type across the country. Members must have participated in the awards program for three years and worked over 50,000 hours in 2008 without a lost time incident in order to be eligible for this prestigious award. McShane exceeded the minimum with its record of 286,215 hours worked without a single lost time accident in 2008. The AGC has nationally recognized its members for safety excellence since 1926.

The Builders Association also took note of the firm's commitment to maintaining a safe workplace when it honored McShane Construction with a "Safety Recognition Award" at the organization's May 28 meeting. This year's award took note of the firm's 2008 performance and marks the company as a seven-time recipient of the honor since the implementation of the program in 1999.

"We are elated to receive recognition for our concerted safety efforts, but our real reward is knowing that our strict approach to jobsite safety ensures that our employees return home unharmed at the conclusion of every work day," states Raday. "I congratulate every member of the McShane construction team for their contribution towards this goal."

The firm's "Safety First, Last and Always" motto proved noteworthy in light of the multiple awards. Safety is at the forefront for all McShane employees through training, inspections and steady communication with regard to its importance.
